Introduction To The University

THE OLD WELL

The Old Well, with all its traditions, will ever remain an essential part of Carolina's campus, and might easily be termed as the symbol of the famous "Carolina Spirit." In former times it was the general meeting place of the entire student body, where each student would meet during his leisure moments to associate with class-mates and friends. Today, before every big football game the students gather to cheer the team on to victory.

Tips To New Men

CAROLINA—The University gladly welcomes each of you, new men, matriculating here for the first time. Upon your arrival here you cannot help but note the spirit of friendliness and loyalty which seems to draw you into the heart of this little community. You find here a new freedom, both of thought and action, which is given to you with the understanding that as gentlemen you will not abuse it. The University, realizing the importance of the individual, allows each man to pursue his studies in the field to which he is best fitted. This friendliness, freedom, loyalty, and individualism together with a desire for service have won for the University the high position which it now holds, and go to make up that indefinable something known as the "Carolina Spirit."

WHAT TO BRING—Before leaving home be sure that your trunk contains some bed linen, a pillow, blankets, towels, and a laundry bag. It is advisable to put two sheets and a blanket in your suitcase, for often your trunk does not arrive as soon as you do. You might also bring pennants and pictures to decorate the walls of your room, and if you have a reading lamp you will make no mistake by bringing it along. A rug or two on the floor and curtains in the windows add much to the attractiveness of the room, but like the reading lamp are not absolutely essential. Your room contains only chairs, beds, desks and chiffonier. Be sure to bring gym shoes and any other athletic equipment you have—baseball and glove, tennis racket, white duck pants, etc. A Webster's Collegiate Dictionary should also be brought along, for it is required for all freshman English courses.

TRIP TO THE HILL—Arrange your plans so as to reach the Hill by eight o'clock on the morning of September 15th. There are four ways of reaching the University: by automobile, bus, train, or train and bus. If you come by either of the first two methods you will find excellent roads leading to Chapel Hill, the latest being a paved road direct from Raleigh. You may come all the way by train, but the station is a mile from the campus and it is very inconvenient to come this way. Most men buy their railroad tickets to Durham and then take a bus to Chapel Hill (12 miles). In either case, however, give your baggage check to one of the many transfer men who will be waiting when you get off the train. Be sure to take the man's name and address so you may look him up in case your trunk is not delivered in two or three days. Also make sure that the transfer man knows your room address.

AT THE HILL—As soon as you reach the Hill get the key to your room—all rooms are locked. You can secure your key at the Buildings Department (at the foot of the big smokestack). In the event that you do not have a room reserved go to the business office on the first floor of South Building. If you cannot find your dormitory with the aid of the map in the HANDBOOK, the man at the information desk in the "Y" will be glad to show you where it is. It is a good plan to fix up your room and get settled in it as soon as you can. Get acquainted with all of your classmates in your dormitory. The first few days before the upperclassmen arrive is a good time for this. For your own convenience it is a good idea to have your physical examination made as soon after your arrival as is convenient to do so. If you arrive Monday afternoon, it is advisable to have it made then.

WHERE TO EAT—For the first few days it is advisable to eat at several of the boarding houses, cafes, and cafeterias. During this time you will have a chance to decide where you want to board permanently. Swain Hall, University profit-sharing dining room, accommodates regularly one-fourth of the student population; board costs $22.00 each month at Swain Hall. Private boarding houses serve meals which may be obtained for $25 to $30 a month. Student managers will be glad to sign you up for these.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION WEEK—For several years now it has been customary for the freshmen to report a week early in order that they might be introduced to the University—its traditions, systems, and buildings, etc. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 15th, all of the new men gather in Memorial Hall and are divided up into small groups, each of which has a faculty advisor and an upperclassman leader. These groups for three days will then follow a definite schedule including physical examination, intelligence test, English placement test, library tour, special lectures on student traditions and the honor system, and individual conferences with a faculty adviser. Registration for courses will take place on Wednesday.

MISCELLANEOUS TIPS AND INFORMATION—

1. Attend every event on your Orientation Program Card.
2. Make a habit of going to church at least once every Sunday.
3. Write home often—the "home folks" always want to know how you are getting on.
4. Be sure to prepare each day's lessons and avoid having to "cram" for the final examinations.
5. During rushing season never go to a fraternity house uninvited.
6. Don't be discouraged if you are not asked to join a fraternity—more than half of the student body is made up of non-fraternity men.
7. Don't decide upon the fraternity you want to join until after you have visited all those to whose houses you have been invited. The friends you make during rushing season are very valuable ones.
8. In no case pledge yourself to a fraternity before Pledge Day.
9. Make acquaintance with all of your professors and don't be afraid to ask them about the lesson which might have troubled you.
10. Take part in some form of athletics.
11. Attend your classes regularly, being absent only when previously excused. Professors are often prejudiced toward students who are continually absent, and will also take offense toward those who are always tardy.
12. Budget yourself so that you will spend money only for those things which are necessary. By leaving out all luxuries, a freshman is able to keep his expenses for a year as low as $450.
13. When sick, don't fail to go the University Infirmary. You have paid the fee at registration, and the service awaits you without further charges. "Sick excuses" for missing classes cannot be secured if you remain in your room.
14. Use the Library as often as you can. It is a good plan to spend your leisure hours there.
15. Try to get as many of your books second-hand as you can. In this way you can save practically half.
16. Make yourself perfectly at home in the "Y," and consider the secretaries as your most valuable friends and advisers. No matter what sort of problem is confronting you, don't be hesitant to ask their help and advice.
17. Take an interest in at least two extra curricula activities.
18. Freshmen are not hazed at Carolina.
19. Mail is delivered to the dormitories twice daily; the occupants of each room have a separate box.
20. Final examinations each quarter are compulsory.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

(The Honor System is Carolina's Most Prized Tradition)

President of Student Body Has a Word to Say—

To the Student Body of the University of North Carolina:

Student Government is the expression of a desire for representative government on the campus as in the commonwealth. The form of student government should assume a character best fitted to its particular student body.

In form and spirit student self-government at the University has been gradually built up during a period of more than a hundred years, and it may truly be said to be a priceless heritage of the past and an indispensible treasure of the present. It is liberal in policy and liberal in structure. It is based upon the principle that a man should be guided from within rather than prodded from without. It encourages the building of moral fibre in the character of the individual, and the development of a spirit of good citizenship on the campus.

MAYNE ALBRIGHT
President Student Body

The Student Council, which is the agent of the student body elected to administer the affairs of government, is characteristically simple in organization. It is composed of nine members: one elected from each of the three upper classes, one from each of the three professional schools,—Law, Medicine, and Pharmacy—one representative from the preceding council, and the president and vice-president of the student body elected from the student body at large. The student body president is chairman of the council and a secretary is elected from the remaining members of the council.

The council assembles regularly in private session and conducts its trials informally. Its important duty is to interpret student government, to enforce good campus citizenship, to uphold the Honor System as the spirit of the University, and to remove from the University any undesirable students. It is bound by no law, custom, nor precedent. It judges each case as it arises, and deals with each case according to its peculiar merits. There is no appeal from its decisions except to the student body in mass-meeting assembled. Its jurisdiction extends over all students whose names are on the University roll. The student council always strives for correction rather than punishment, for effectiveness rather than consistency, and for justice rather than law.

Student Government at the University has never had a written constitution. Instead it is guided by two codes: The Honor System and the Campus Code. Under the Honor Code, there is no espionage. Every student is on his honor not to lie, cheat, or steal; and to report any such offences to the student council. Under the Campus Code, every student is expected to conduct himself as a gentlemen at all times, and insofar as possible, to see that his fellow students do likewise.

Student self-government must in all its actions strive for a double purpose: the good of the individual and the good of the institution. Every student upon entering the University automatically assumes the obligations of the Honor System and the Campus Code, and assumes also his share of responsibility for the success of Student Government.

AGE AND EXTENT. The Young Men's Christian Association is the largest student organization in the world. It is operating in 700 schools in the United States with a total membership of over 79,000 students.

The first Y. M. C. A. was organized by Sir George Williams in 1844, in London, England. The first student "Y" was established in the U. S. in 1857, at the Universities of Michigan and Virginia. It was established at the University of North Carolina in 1860.

North America has 2,085 Y. M. C. A.'s, including all types, with a total membership of 925,000. There are 9,000 Y. M. C. A.'s in the world distributed over 48 different countries, with a total membership of 1,500,000 men and boys. There are 6,000 Y. M. C. A. Secretaries. The total value of all Y. M. C. A. buildings and property in the world is approximately $200,000,000.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

1. To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ and his way of life;
2. To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church;
3. To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible and prayer;
4. To influence them to devote themselves in united effort with all Christians to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

ORGANIZATION

THE CABINETS—The direct authority and leadership of a Student Y. M. C. A. lies in its Cabinets of officers and committeemen, elected by the membership of the local Association. At Carolina we use the class-cabinet system to enable a larger number of students to participate in the leadership.

THE SENIOR CABINET leads and controls the policy of the Y. M. C. A. program. It is composed only of juniors and seniors. Its four officers are elected by campus ballot.

THE SOPHOMORE CABINET operates as a sub-cabinet to take the program of the Y. M. C. A. to the members of the sophomore class, and to give opportunity for active leadership and training to Sophomores who desire it. Its membership is composed of those who graduated out of the Freshman Cabinet of the previous year.

THE FRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL, or Freshman Cabinet, functions among the members of the freshman class in the same way that the Sophomore Cabinet serves the second-year men. The F. F. C. is organized on the first Friday night of the school year at a special banquet meeting. All freshmen who have been members of a Hi-Y Club for one or more years, or members of a Prep School Y. M. C. A., are eligible for membership and should attend this banquet on the opening night. Other freshmen may be voted into membership by the Council at any subsequent meeting during the year. All faithful members of the F. F. C. who return to the University the second year are automatically graduated into the membership of the Sophomore Cabinet.

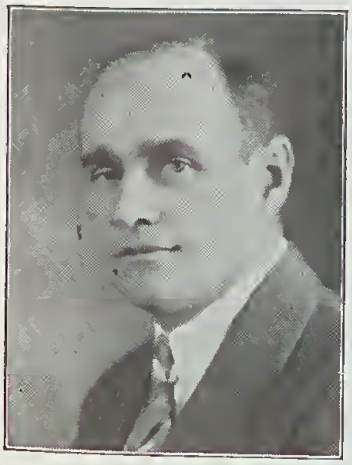
As is provided in the constitution of the Young Men's Christian Association generally, there stands back of the immediately active student cabinet, and back of the employed officers, a small body of men, local residents, known as the Board of Directors, who in the beginning were elected by the student membership of the Association. Following the original election the Board of Directors is, by custom, self-perpetuating, though their election may still be approved, or disapproved, by the active membership of the Association, if they desire to take action. There are three major functions, or duties, of this board: First, they stand as an advisory body to counsel with the student officers and committees, and the employed staff, as often as they may have opportunity. Their leadership in this capacity is of indispensable value. Second, the Board of Directors assumes final authority and responsibility over the financial welfare and needs of the local Association, furnishing the permanent, bankable stability to the Association's financial reputation. The Board of Directors is therefore the legal Trustee of any and all Association properties, and all property titles rest in them as the permanent head of the organization. Third, the Board of Directors bears the responsibility for the permanent on-going of the Association and its program, as guardians over the proper transfer of leadership from one set of student officers to the next; from one student generation to the next; and from one secretarial administration to the next. The Board therefore "hires and fires" the secretaries of the employed staff, and while the secretaries work constantly under the leadership of the student officers, they are finally responsible to the Board of Directors.

THE EMPLOYED STAFF



HARRY F. COMER
General Secretary
B.S. Vanderbilt, M.A.
Columbia

It would be impossible to enumerate all of the details that press themselves into the list of a Y. M. C. A. Secretary's responsibilities, but a general classification of his major duties and responsibilities might be made somewhat as follows:

First, the Secretary stands in the same relationship to the student officers and committeemen of the "Y," as does a coach to the athletic teams. He is there to coach, train, and to give full time out of his experience and training to work out the more intricate details required in the successful leadership of such an organization; such things as the students cannot do for lack of time, experience, and training.

Second, the Secretary of the Association must look at all times to the general social, moral, and spiritual well-being of the campus, and busy himself in the task of bringing about the best possible conditions for the moral and spiritual development of the maximum number of students in the University—in the same way in which the honest coach is ever active in the interest of the proper physical development of the whole student body.

Third, the Secretary is responsible for making himself available to the largest possible number of students for guidance and counsel in the personal problems of the individual student. No personal problem of any student should escape the keen interest of the Secretary, and yet he should never be found "butting in," but rather attracting students to him voluntarily by his demonstrated willingness and ability to serve, and an honesty that will not betray confidences. The Secretaries welcome any request, and their services are especially valuable to first-year men.

Fourth, the Secretary participates in the general administrative work of the University, responding frequently to the calls from the President and the several Deans. The employed staff takes a leading part in the work of the campus as a whole that pertains to religious activity for which the University is responsible. An extensive amount of clearing house function is performed by the Secretaries between students and their families back home. They also serve constantly as a medium between faculty and students on the campus.

EDWIN S. LANIER
Self-Help Secretary
A.B. and Law Student at University of N. C.

ED R. HAMER
Freshman Secretary
A.B. University of North Carolina, 1931

Fifth, the secretaries stand as clearing-house officers for all organized religious bodies outside the campus, offering the denominations assistance in their efforts to serve the students of their respective groups. This service is of vital importance particularly in the case of first year men. The Secretary is not a preacher or priest, but he should be able to function as campus spiritual adviser, furnishing students spiritual fellowship and counseling them when needed in their religious problems. In this work he also makes use of the ministers in the community.

MEMBERSHIP—Traditionally, members of the Y. M. C. A. are divided into two classes, Active and Associate. The Active group is made up of those members who are affiliated with an evangelical church, and, or, who subscribe to the whole statement of Purpose of the Association. Active members are eligible to all privileges of the Association, including office holding. The Associate group is made up of non-church members and those who ascribe to the Association Purpose only in part. Associate members are entitled to all privileges of membership save office-holding.

THE BUILDING—The Y. M. C. A. building is located in the heart of the campus, and though small, it has stood for nearly thirty years as the central meeting place of the student body. It has provided office headquarters for the Y. M. C. A., room for the University Book Exchange, a public Reading Room, visitors headquarters, information bureau, and conference rooms in which have met the scores of campus organizations and committees for these many years. This building was erected out of funds raised by the students and faculty for this purpose.

The campus has greatly outgrown the Y. M. C. A. building, and fortunately enough, there will be opened for campus use this fall the new Graham Memorial Union, providing now almost unlimited facilities for the numerous campus activities. The Y. M. C. A. building will still be used to capacity, housing the Y. M. C. A. offices including the Self-Help Bureau, space for "Y" Cabinet meetings, the Book Exchange, and a reading room, while the new Union building will be used for recreation and general meeting place for activity committees. The Y. M. C. A. will use the Union quite as often as the average campus organization for social and other program purposes.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF THE Y. M. C. A.—The University Y. M. C. A. has an annual budget of approximately $10,000.00. Of this amount 54% comes as a cash appropriation from the University Administration. The remainder is raised by the Student Cabinets and Board of Directors through means of free-will contributions from students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the University.

Every student in the University is given an opportunity to make a contribution to the welfare and religious work of the "Y" on the campus, during the process of his Fall Quarter registration. The gift of course is purely voluntary, and it is hoped that even the student who may feel he does not personally need the services of the "Y," will contribute in consideration of the services rendered to the many who do need it, and of the program promoted on the campus by the "Y." Your pledge made during registration is collected by the University treasurer along with other fees. Student contributions range from two to ten dollars. All who contribute as much as $2.00 will be given a membership card, which is valuable for identification and for use in traveling through cities, as it entitles one to visitor's privileges in any city Y. M. C. A.

PROGRAM—The University Y. M. C. A. is an organization of and for students, and with its major control in the hands of students. The present form of program is the product of the experience of the years, growing out of the efforts of the Cabinets to carry on such functions as best meet the needs of the campus. A program set up with the entire student body in mind, must of necessity be broad and with sufficient variety to interest many types of students. It is hardly expected therefore that the entire program will appeal directly to any one student.

Program organization brings into active leadership a rather large number of students, broken into numerous committees and small groups devoting themselves to specific tasks under one or another of the six major divisions of program activity. Every student is invited to study this list of Major Divisions of Program and make a selection of the one in connection with which he would like to serve. Each Division can find room for a rather large number of active workers, inasmuch as each of the three Cabinets can function separately in the program of any Division.

MAJOR DIVISIONS OF PROGRAM:

The following outline and brief explanation of the Divisions of Program reveal wide possibilities for individual students to take an active part in the work of the Y. M. C. A.

1. Devotion and Worship. The Young Men's Christian Association is primarily a religious organization and had its birth really in the felt need among laymen for a more definitely organized opportunity to associate themselves together in week-day Devotional and Worship practices. This end is sought by means of prayer groups, Bible study groups, religious meetings, Testament Leagues, etc. The exact form of expression for these functions is for the Cabinets to decide.
2. Community Welfare and Service. Looking to the general well-being of every student on the campus, this Division has perfected several channels of benefit to the practical needs of all classes. The Self-Help Bureau serves to render aid in financial matters to hundreds of students, especially first year men. Prominent also is the Case Work, so called, which in simpler terms is performing the Good Samaritan act wherever there is an underclassman who "needs a friend." Under this Division are the countless little contributions to campus comfort and general needs—taking care of visitors, and representing at all times the best interests of the student body and of the University.

3. Educational Growth in Moral and Spiritual Lines. Supplementing the University curriculum by providing Moral and Spiritual interpretations and studies, which by nature of the subjects is not expected of regular University courses and daily class-room work. This the Y. M. C. A. seeks to accomplish by means of encouraging the widest possible reading of books and other literature along such lines; by bringing to the campus specially qualified speakers, both in one-man programs and in combinations of speakers as extensive as the Human Relations Institute program; by taking selected groups of students to conferences and conventions; by encouraging forums and discussions on vital social and religious issues, and by individual effort on the part of the Secretaries and other faculty leaders.
4. Field Practice and Training in Organization. Through the system of Cabinet and Committee organization, the Y. M. C. A. seeks to provide laboratory experience and practice in social and religious leadership. Students get this in the process of running the program among their fellow students, and in enlisting others to assist them; in leading meetings, discussion groups, making special deputation trips to high schools, promoting Boy Scouts and other clubs, and in associating themselves with students of other colleges in various types of intercollegiate programs and wider movements. In brief, it enables students to learn moral and religious leadership by studying and practicing it in positions of real responsibility.
5. Wide Fellowship Through Relation to World Movement. The student Y. M. C. A. reaches literally round the world, and provides therefore a world-wide fellowship of youth. It seeks through this relationship to build an ever deepening consciousness of world brotherhood under the standards of Jesus' way of life. This effort is carried on through a never ending circulation of literature, periodicals, traveling secretaries, and at important intervals bringing students together in regional, national, international, and world conferences and conventions. A high form of expression of this fellowship among students round the world occurs in the practiced support of Association work among students in other lands, and the support of the Student Volunteer Movement from whose ranks several thousand students have gone to invest their lives in work of moral, social, and religious nature in the far countries of the world.
6. A Clearing House for Other Religious Organizations. The Carolina Y. M. C. A. recognizes Sunday as a day belonging primarily to Church programs. It therefore does not promote Sunday programs, but rather turns whatever force its organization may have in the direction of encouraging students to take part in the program of their respective denominations in Chapel Hill. It assists outside church bodies to get in touch with their students; provides a religious census of students for all the churches; seeks to interest students in religious vocations; and attempts always to make intelligent response to calls from any denomination for assistance with their students. The Y. M. C. A. is a direct product of the Church and recognizes the right of the Church to make heavy demands upon it for service.

CHURCHES

CHAPEL HILL BAPTIST CHURCH

EUGENE OLIVE Pastor

To New Students

The Chapel Hill Baptist Church looks forward with eagerness to the return of each college year. With the coming of hundreds of new students to the University the people of the church have the privilege of forming an ever-increasing number of warm friendships. The pastor, the members of the local congregation, and the Baptists of North Carolina are seeking to provide a wholesome and happy church life for the students. It is their desire to help in every possible way to make their stay in Chapel Hill contribute to their highest good spiritually, as well as intellectually and physically.

Baptist students are invited to bring with them their church letters and transfer their membership to the local congregation at the every beginning. Students who do this are happier in their religious life and less likely to lose their bearings. We believe that it is a great tragedy for anybody to grow physically and intellectually and become a spiritual dwarf or corpse. It is to provide opportunity for students to become what they should be spiritually that the program of the Chapel Hill Baptist Church is planned.

Baptist Student Activities

Every student who cares to, will find a place in some of the activities of the church. Sunday School classes and B.Y.P.U.'s are adapted to their needs. Students are used as church ushers, members of the church choir and in the Sunday School orchestra. The Baptist Student Union, whose officers are elected by the students themselves, includes all the student religious organizations of the church. The pastor is glad to have students call upon him at any time for whatever service he may render. During the morning hours he may be found in his study at the church. At other times he will be glad to see students by appointment. The church telephone number is 4381. Pastor's residence, 5551.

Office hours: daily 9 a. m.-12 noon.

The Chapel of the Cross cordially welcomes all members of the Episcopal Church, and all others who care to worship with us. New students are asked to make themselves known to Mr. Lawrence as soon as possible after their arrival in Chapel Hill.

Our policy is to have as little organization as possible. We want the Church to be a spiritual home, and not a club.

The Parish House is always open to students. On the ground floor there is a good reading room, provided with books and magazines, and upstairs there are a number of small rooms which offer excellent opportunities for study.

Every Sunday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 tea is served in the Parish House. These teas afford an opportunity for students to meet each other, and also to know many of the people of Chapel Hill.

FRESHMAN NIGHT

On Friday evening of the first week of the school year the Churches observe Freshman Night. This is an informal get-acquainted gathering in honor of the men who have just arrived on the campus.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

W. D. Moss, Pastor

You are cordially invited to all the services of the church and both pastor and members are anxious to become acquainted with you.

There will be two Young Men's Bible Classes, one especially for the new men and the other for upperclassmen. These groups will be taught by men who understand students' problems and know how to deal with them.

There will be a Social Hour every Sunday evening in the Social Rooms immediately after the evening service. Here will be a fine opportunity for men to get acquainted and have discussions about things in which they are deeply interested.

The pastor will be in the Social Rooms the first three evenings of every week to meet with the young people. Come to see him. You will miss your home church and we want you to be at home with us.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

(The Chapel Hill Christian Church merged with the Congregationalists in 1929. It is now "The United Church of Chapel Hill.")

We extend to you a hearty welcome to Chapel Hill and to the fellowship of the Christian Church. We want you to feel perfectly at home and that you are one of us while you are here. In order for you to do this, we have established an honorary membership for any and all who do not find their particular denomination represented among the churches here. This membership gives you a real church home and puts you under no obligations nor in any way conflicts with your church affiliation back home. We welcome you into our midst, and extend you a cordial invitation to be with us.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodists of North Carolina have erected here at Chapel Hill a beautiful and well equipped church building for the benefit of all the Methodist students who attend the University. The records for the past few years reveal the fact that one out of every three in attendance here comes from a Methodist home. Quite naturally our church is interested to a superlative degree in the young men and women of the University. For them has been built in the midst of a busy campus life a structure amply able to take care of all those interested in various church activities such as the Epworth League, the Sunday School, socials, and the regular preaching services. We are here to serve as best we can the hundreds of students who have come from every section of our state and other states.

To all of you we give our greetings at the beginning of this new year. Not only on the Sabbath but on every day of the week we ask you to use our social halls for your pleasure and relaxation. Consider our church your home, and let us serve you as long as you remain in our delightful community.

C. EXCELL ROZZELLE, Minister.

VILLAGE RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

City Young People's Union

This union is composed of the young people's societies from all churches in Chapel Hill. That is the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian and Christian churches; the B. Y. P. U., of the Baptist; Epworth League, of the Methodist; and Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of the Episcopal. The purpose of the union is to create and maintain a larger Christian fellowship among all young people of Chapel Hill churches. This is accomplished by having one union meeting each quarter with devotional program, and one with a social program.

Council of Religious Workers

This is an organization whose membership is composed of all past, present and future religious workers in the city. That is, all ministers, retired missionaries residing in the town, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. secretaries, all ministerial students and all student volunteers. The Council of Religious Workers meets once a month throughout the calendar year. Its purpose is to provide rich fellowship among all religious workers, to coordinate the religious work and programs of the town as a whole, and to see that no religious need of the community at large goes unattended.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION—The Athletic Association is the organization back of all athletics at the University. Every student is a member of this association, and as such is allowed to attend all varsity and freshman games played by Carolina teams on the home fields free of charge. A small fee is charged in the regular registration fee to cover membership in the Athletic Association and other athletic privileges. The Athletic Council has control of all matters pertaining to athletics at the University. Its membership is composed of three faculty members appointed by the President; three alumni members elected by the alumni; three student members—the President of the Athletic Association, the President of the Student Body, and a delegate elected from the Monogram Club; the Graduate Manager of Athletics; and the director of Athletics.

OFFICERS OF THE ASSOCIATION—The officers of the Athletic Association are elected by a vote of the student body at the regular spring elections. These officers elected for 1931-32 are: Theron Brown, President, and Harry Hodges, Vice-President.

ELECTION OF CAPTAINS—The captain of each athletic team is selected by the letter men in that particular sport at the end of each season. This year there will be no regular captain in football and boxing in the major sports and tennis in the minor sports. A football captain will be elected before each game this year, and an honorary captain at the end of the season.

ELECTION OF MANAGERS—All freshmen who wish may try out for sub-assistant managerships of any sport. Each man trying out is assigned to work one day each week with the varsity squad and one day with the freshman squad. At the end of the playing season the Director of Athletics, the coach of the varsity sport, varsity manager, president of the Athletic Association, and the graduate manager shall recommend to the Athletic Council six men to serve as sub-assistant managers during the sophomore year. In like manner two from this group of men shall be recommended for assistant managers during their junior year. In the senior year one of these two shall serve as varsity manager and the other as assistant or freshman manager.

Intramural Athletics

The purpose of Intramural Athletics is to provide some form of sport and out-door recreation for every member of the student body. Director "Bo" Shepard, assisted by Mac Gray and Wallace Shelton, have kept this purpose steadfastly in mind and their efforts have resulted in the most successful year the department has had in the eight years of its existence. More students are participating in each sport each year, and many new events have been added to the program of Intramural Contests. Also the University has added greatly to the supply of equipment. This work makes good Carolina's slogan: "Athletics for All."

PUBLICATIONS UNION BOARD

All publications at Carolina are controlled by the Publications Union Board which is composed of three students elected by the student body and two faculty members appointed by the President. Under the director of the Board all publications are given to the students for a blanket fee of five dollars which is paid by registration fees. For this the student receives The Daily Tar Heel, the daily newspaper, with the Carolina Magazine as a literary supplement issued twice a month; The Buccaneer, the campus monthly comic; and the Yackety Yack, the year book. At other universities the cost of similar publications is from eleven to twenty dollars.

Fraternities

Fraternities may be defined as bands of men joined together for companionship at college. At Carolina there are 31 national social fraternities, 4 local social fraternities, 13 professionals, and 2 women's fraternities. A national fraternity is one which has chapters at various schools, while a local fraternity consists of a single chapter. The professional fraternity chooses its members from only one school of the University (i.e., Law, Medicine, etc.), while the social fraternities choose men from any school. The majority of fraternities own or rent houses in which the members live and, in some cases have their meals.

BIDS. Membership in these fraternities is by invitation. Each fraternity bids those men who seem to be most congenial with that particular group. In selecting new members the various fraternities stress different qualities, such as: Social standing, athletic prowess, literary and scholastic attainments, personality, character, wealth, and family "rating." Recommendations by alumni and fraternal connections in the family also play an important part.

RUSHING. The rushing season begins one week after the first day of classes which is preceded by what is known in fraternity circles as the first period of silence in which there shall be no rushing of any kind. This period of silence includes what is commonly known as Freshman Week in addition to the first week of classes. For the twenty days following this date (from September 26, 1931, to midnight of October 15, 1931) each fraternity will entertain Freshmen to whom it is considering extending bids. All fraternity rushing-entertainment is restricted to the fraternity houses and shall be limited to the hours of two to nine o'clock P. M., except on the last night (October 15) of the period of rushing, when the time shall be extended to midnight. The second period of silence shall extend from midnight of October 15 to six P. M. of October 17. Periods of silence are periods in which Freshmen consider the merits of the various fraternities by whom they have been rushed. No freshmen are permitted to be rushed or talked to by any fraternity man or his associates during the periods of silence. During the entire rushing season no freshman will be permitted under any circumstances to spend time at fraternities outside of the above mentioned hours (two to nine P. M.). No fraternity man will be allowed to room with a freshman during rushing season, or even allowed to visit hi mat his rooms outside the regular hours.

JOHN PHIL COOPER
President Interfraternity Council

DATES. Appointments between fraternity men and Freshmen can only be made one week in advance, the first ones having to be recorded in the Dean of Students' office. No Freshman shall be permitted to break any first date with a fraternity under penalty of being barred from fraternity membership. No Freshman may during the first two days of rushing make more than two dates with any one fraternity.

PLEDGING. After the rushing season fraternity bids are given out by the Dean of Students, after each student has recorded his preferences provided he were to receive a bid or bids. Each Freshman names his first, second, and third choices and more if he has them. No Freshman, under any circumstances, will be permitted to be pledged before pledge day. Both fraternities and Freshmen can be punished for breaking this rule.

INITIATING. Fraternity pledges may be initiated at the end of the winter quarter provided they have passed five courses, making at least two C's (85). Any pledge not satisfying scholastic requirements to be initiated must wait over until the following year to be initiated.

In order to be allowed to initiate new members in the spring quarter a fraternity must attain a 3.5 average in scholarship (between a "C" and "D") for the preceding (fall) quarter; if however any fraternity does not attain such an average in the fall quarter, the whole fraternity will be on probation during the winter quarter to raise its average to the required 3.5, and provided this average is attained may initiate in spring quarter.

CHAPEL HILL

(Something about the village you are going to live in)

1. Population, 2697.
2. Five churches: Baptist, Episcopal, Christian-Congregational, Methodist, and Presbyterian—all of which have handsome new houses of worship. Also there are regular scheduled services for Catholics and Lutherans.
3. Chapel Hill was founded in 1795.
4. Has two weekly papers, in addition to a daily paper, The Tar Heel, run by students on the campus.
5. Has a well-equipped and modern hotel—The Carolina Inn.
6. The village is the home of numerous professors, whose fame throughout the country and world has made great the name of Chapel Hill even to foreign countries.
7. An Art Colony of at least five noted artists is maintained in Chapel Hill.
8. The stores of the town are equipped more as city stores than is usually the case in so small a place.
9. The latest model of Vitaphone and General Electric motion picture house, seating a thousand at a time—runs four shows daily.
10. In the most beautiful section of the Carolina foothills, Chapel Hill is noted for its beauty and climatic conditions. In the center of the state.
11. No town its size anywhere can boast of so vast an extent of varieties in flowers and shrubs, in her numerous old fashioned gardens.
